MICROBREWERY

Beer is one of the world's oldest prepared beverages, possibly dating back to 9500 B.C. (Yes much before Coke or Bottled Water). The Process of making beer is known as brewing; a dedicated building for making the beer is known as a brewery. The basic ingredients of beer are water, a steeped starch source such as malted barley, malted wheat, roasted malt; which can be fermented (converted into alcohol) yeast to induce the fermentation process and a flavoring agent such as hops that lend both aesthetic and potent characteristics to the beer. Brewer (expert who supervises the brewing process) sets the quantity of each ingredient to determine a recipe before each brew.

There are several steps in the brewing process, which include Malting, Milling, Mashing Lautering, Boiling, Fermenting, Conditioning, and Dispensing, Each step is carefully calibrated by the brew master keeping in mind the recipe of the beer and the final nectar (Socio-Technical name for our Beers) that is to be achieved.

Microbreweries are modern day breweries that produce a limited quantity of beer per day. The beer is preservative free and a variety of them can be produced from the same plant: Lager, Ales, Porters, Stouts, Fruit Flavored, Cider etc. The Microbrewery equipment includes: a brew house, fermentation tanks called uni-tank, chilling system, CIP System, Filtration System, Beer (nectar) storage tank traditionally known as BBT's tank (Bright Beer Tanks) and dispensing unit.

All Microbreweries are unique in structure, brewing process and have a distinct recipe. Every pint of beer from a particular microbrewery reflects this uniqueness. Brew Bros follows a Top/Bottom fermentation approach accompanied with a close tank vessel system. Brew Bros is also a true abider of the Reinheitsgebot Purity law. The law allows only malted Wheat/Barley/Rice, Water & Hops in beer production.

CRAFT BEER

Brewery Beer – Make Your Choice to Rejoice

CHAKK DE PHATTE : A Roasted red IPA that is huge on hops, yet remains well balanced. The strong and bitter flavor remains noticeable through four different grains. Alcohol: 7.8% | Maltiness: High | Palate: Strong | Flavor: Very hoppy beer with slight Sweetness.

TOP NOTCH GABRU : Irish Red Ale: A clear deep reddish copper in color with just slightly tan colored head. The nose has low malt aroma accompanied with caramel centered, toasty or toffee-like notes. The swallow highlights light roasted grain qualities helping to dry out the finish. Usually little to no hop flavors but Roast grains create a sense of more hop bitterness than actually present. A clean and smooth beer with a medium-dry finish. Alcohol: 7-7.5%

BELGIUM WIT : A simple yet zesty, refreshing Belgium wheat with little cloudiness, less bitterness. Alcohol: 5.6% | Maltiness: Low | Palate: Smooth | Flavor : A huge orange, coriander, and fruity nose and flavor with a lot of creaminess of wheat and oats.

FLAVOR BEER: As Per Seasonal Fruits.
